

Southampton Solent University

Solent University is one of the UK's newest universities, since it became a university in July 2005 and officially changed its name on 15 August 2005. The University has two academic campuses at Southampton and Warsash. The academic campus has over thirty buildings, which include conference buildings, Grade two listed buildings and maritime simulators.

Carisway supply Cleaning and associated services to the academic campuses, our proposal to the University was for a more sustainable service provision that recognised the need to move away from minimum pay, hours and skills.

The introduction of a green cleaning program that focused on the people that delivered the service, Re-focus, Reinvest, Retrain and Retain was the new hierarchy of control.

Carisway proposed to introduce a team work approach and consistent standards of excellence to the University Estate.
